100 BIG U. S.
PLANES SMASH
NAPLES HARBORPresses Stage Biggest Raid on Important Italian
City.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 5.—U. S. bombers smashed Naples harbor yesterday in the largest air attack on the Italian city since the war began. The attack was the first in a series of operations against the city, which is a major port for the Axis powers. The bombers dropped a large number of bombs, causing considerable damage to the harbor and surrounding areas. The attack was a significant blow to the Italian war effort.

Nearly 100 of the four-engine bombers from the U. S. Army Air Corps participated in the raid. The bombers were equipped with high-capacity incendiary bombs, which they dropped in large quantities. The attack was a surprise, as the city had not been heavily bombed in previous months.

The Italian high command reported that the attack had caused considerable damage to the harbor and surrounding areas. The city is a major port for the Axis powers, and the attack was a significant blow to the Italian war effort.

NEW CURRENCY
PLAN OFFEREDMorgenthau Proposes Action
To Stabilize World Money
After War.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 5.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau disclosed today an extraordinary plan for post-war currency stabilization which would include a partial return to the gold standard for most of the nations of the world.

This would be accomplished, he said, in a statement read to a closed session of the foreign relations committee of the House of Representatives today. The plan would involve the creation of an international stabilization fund and an agreement among the participating nations to fix the value of their currencies in terms of gold.

The treasury proposal as outlined by the secretary involves the creation of an international stabilization fund and an agreement among the participating nations to fix the value of their currencies in terms of gold.

The purpose of the fund would be to promote the maintenance of currency stability. The fund would be financed by contributions from the participating nations.

This stability would be secured, the secretary said, by fixing the value of currency in terms of gold, and by providing that changes could not be made without consultation with other members of the fund.

Similar to that of the tripartite agreement negotiated between France, Great Britain and the United States in 1936.

Senators said the plan, the outline of which already has been communicated to 34 nations, involves the establishment of an international bank from which contributing countries could obtain loans to stabilize their currencies.

Morgenthau declined to discuss the plan after the closed session broke up, but one of the senators present said it was his understanding the primary capitalization of the proposed international bank would be $5,000,000,000.

Dollar Value Uniform. As outlined by the conferees, the plan would involve pegging all currencies to gold at a fixed legal value and stabilizing the exchange so that the value of the dollar would be the same in all nations entering the agreement.

These nations' currency, likewise, would have a fixed and relatively unvarying value in the United States.

Representative Andren (R-Minn.) said the Roosevelt administration had failed to take concrete steps and the people into its confidence "when it comes to dealing with money and gold belonging to the citizens of our country."

Andren told the house London newspapers "carried the entire Roosevelt-Morgenthau plan this morning, and details were given to the world over an international broadcast at 8 o'clock."

"To my amazement," Andren said, "I have learned from the London broadcast that we are to set up a five billion dollar international stabilization fund, presumably American gold, and create a new currency."

Ohioan, Lost 10 Months in Jungle,
Asks for Ball Scores, After Rescue

By The Associated Press
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, March 27.—(Delayed)—Rescued with two companions after 10 months and a day in the jungles of Japanese-occupied New Britain, Private First Class Dale E. Bordner of Chillicothe, O., wanted to know.

How the Cincinnati Reds came out in 1942, and who won the Rose Bowl football game.

Bordner, 23, was the radioman aboard a B-26 bomber that crashed in the sea after an engine was shot out by anti-aircraft fire in a bombing raid on Rabaul air base. Two of the crew were killed in the crash. Two were captured by the Japanese. One died of pneumonia.

Rescued with Bordner—in a brilliant piece of daring, details of which cannot yet be told—were Second Lieutenant Eugene D. Wallace of Los Angeles, the copilot, and Marvin C. Hughes of Baird, Texas, the navigator. Both, like Bordner, are 23 and unmarried.

Given Up for Lost. The three fliers, injured in the crash and long since given up for lost, were returned to a U. S. base recently in remarkably good condition. Brig. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead, commander of the fifth U. S. Air Force, awarded them Purple Hearts yesterday, and declared "I hope this luck stays with you."

Preparing to leave the island with an Australian bushman, Private John Leslie Stokke, whom they met in the jungle, the three fliers were making camp when they spotted an American bomber in a reconnaissance flight and flashed a mirror at it. The rescue followed.

That ended their 10 terrifying months of grubbing for a living in the jungles where natives almost starved, fighting off repeated sicknesses and dodging the Japanese.

Wallace, who lost 12 pounds during the ordeal, said he had eaten grubs, caterpillars, lizards and snakes. Bordner, who lost 15 pounds, assented "me too, but not all."

Didn't Savor 'Hoppers. Hughes said a grasshopper turned his stomach.

"Another thing we couldn't savor was the Japanese."

URGES U. S. SHARE WORLD PROBLEMS. Representative Andren (R-Minn.) said the Roosevelt administration had failed to take concrete steps and the people into its confidence "when it comes to dealing with money and gold belonging to the citizens of our country."

5 FORMATIONS
CROSS CHANNEL
IN GREAT FORCEAmerican Planes Follow Up
Raid on Paris and RAF
Blast at Kiel.

By The Associated Press
LONDON, April 5.—A great force of United States Flying Fortresses headed across the Strait of Dover this afternoon, indicating another big daylight attack on the continent in the wake of yesterday's American bombing near Paris and a heavy RAF raid on Kiel, Germany.

The four-motored bombers, flying in closely-knit formations, roared out over the strait water for the continuous day and night pounding of the German war machine in the air offensive.

Only yesterday the Flying Fortresses smashed at the Renault works near Paris and last night a mighty RAF force followed through with the Kiel attack in which unofficial observers estimated a thousand tons of bombs or more were dropped.

Five Formations Seen. Five formations of Fortresses were counted crossing the south-east coast today, flying between 15,000 and 20,000 feet.

Residents of Folkestone stopped in the streets to watch the planes which formed one of the most powerful allied attacking forces they had witnessed crossing over their town.

Twelve British bombers failed to return from last night's attack on Kiel.

The air ministry announcement that the raid was carried out "in great strength" indicated the attack was as heavy, if not heavier, than the raid the previous night on the Krupp works at Essen, which cost 21 bombers.

Besides its shipbuilding yards for the construction of warships and U-boats, Kiel has many factories specializing in marine engineering and repair.

The Paris radio later in the day ascribed the number of injured persons had risen to more than 1,000, including 200 seriously hurt.

The communiqué claimed destruction of 19 invading planes over Paris and over the Norwegian coast and 10 more over western Germany. The allies gave no confirmation of raids over Norway.

Call It Terror Raid. The Berlin radio also broadcast a dispatch from Paris referring to the Renault bombing as a "terror raid."

The Berlin radio said the RAF attack was directed against the North German coastal district and declared that five of the raiders were shot down. As usual, the German radio attempted to minimize the results of the raid, asserting that damage was confined entirely to non-military targets.

A total of 133 Flying Fortresses took part in the daylight raid on the Renault works—one of the greatest armadas of four-engine American bombers ever launched from bases in Britain. Perfect weather guided them to their target and they unloaded hundreds of tons of explosives on the sprawling factories with such accuracy that returning crews said:

"We don't see how anything can be left there now."

Four of the big bombers failed to return, but they were credited officially with shooting down at least 25 German fighters. Over the French coast the Fortresses were joined by Allied fighters which plunged into the attacking enemy planes and shot down eight more. Seven of the allied fighters were lost in the melee. Five more.

WALDO YOUTH SUFFERS SERIOUS GASOLINE BURNS. Clothing Ignited at Filling Station in Prospect.

By The Associated Press
WALDO, O., April 5.—Harold Heales, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Heales of Waldo, suffered second and third degree burns Saturday afternoon when he struck a match to start out with filling an automobile tank at the Standard Oil filling station in Prospect where he was employed.

While filling the tank, gasoline had spilled down his right trouser leg and when he struck the match the clothing ignited, burning his right leg, thigh and hand.

Drive For 13 Billions in War Bonds Opens April 12Government Calls on Newspapers To Help Put Over Greatest Campaign in History.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 5.—Uncle Sam today called upon his nephews and nieces to pitch in and chip in—but fast.

From coast to coast the government set in motion a campaign to raise 13 billion dollars through the second war loan drive—the treasury calls it the greatest in world history—starting April 12, one week from today.

Newspapers, radio and other advertising media took up the cry so that when the selling starts next week Americans will know how much Uncle Sam wants and why.

The government wants the money as quickly as possible and for this reason:

To help pay the huge war bill and put a damper on inflationary forces by siphoning off into savings in war bonds the money that otherwise would be on the loose, looking for a place to be spent.

Calls on Newspapers. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau called upon the nation's newspapers—which last fall helped America get over its scrap metal shortage through a drive that raised 6 million tons—to take a leading part in this bond drive.

The newspapers leaped to the job by forming the Allied Newspaper Council after top newspaper executives met here with the secretary who told them the need for the money was urgent.

They pledged the treasury editorial and advertising support, the latter to come from donated space and commercially sponsored copy rather than from government-paid advertisements.

The government's ideal would be to raise the 13 billion in the last two years—but the campaign will go on unceasingly.

One thing is certain: For the three weeks starting next Monday the bond drive will be the most intensive of its kind ever attempted.

Treasury said the 13 billion of the 13 billion in bonds would be taken by commercial banks, the remainder to be bought by insurance companies, other institutions and the man in the street.

It is likely that the share of the money in the street will be 2 or 3 billions.

Bond sales now are running about one billion a month, so the drive will call for stepped-up purchases by the factory hand, the shipping clerk, the bus driver, the corner grocer, the salesgirl, the policeman on the beat.

Offered for sale will be the war bonds familiar to every one—series E, F and G—and tax savings notes, treasury savings bonds, treasury bills and a number of new treasury issues designed for every class and type of citizen and organization.

Reason for Optimism. This is why the treasury believes it will be able to raise the money in a hurry.

Existing holdings of currency and commercial bank deposits are at new record levels—which means the banks are chockful of money—and a large share of it is available for immediate investment in government bonds.

American people have confidence in the government, and that confidence is a good example of how this works.

In this second war loan campaign the government will have the greatest selling organization in history, that is, the skeletonized factory hand, the skeletonized shipping clerk, the skeletonized bus driver, the skeletonized corner grocer, the skeletonized salesgirl, the skeletonized policeman on the beat.

At that time there were about 25,000 postoffices and banks carrying as outlets for sale of war bonds and stamps.

MOST PRICES TO BE CUT BY FEDERAL ORDERSmall Independent Stores To Be Allowed To Make Higher Charges.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 5.—OPA today put specific cents-per-pound ceiling prices on retail sales of beef, veal, lamb and mutton effective April 13, and said housewives would find them "in most cases less than the prices which consumers have been paying recently."

Similar prices on retail pork cuts went into effect on April 1. Today's standardization of top prices was designed by the office of price administration to help restore order in retail meat distribution, upset for months by shortages, price rules that varied from store to store, edged black-market sales for sale of illegal meat at illegal prices, and other difficulties.

Wiping out the store-by-store meat price maximums, which formerly permitted any establishment to charge its highest price of March, 1942, the new action set down the cents-per-pound price of sirloin, hamburger, veal cutlets and so on for each grade of meat in each of 12 zones. The meat cuts are all the ordinary types and correspond with ration lists.

Allowed Higher Prices. As in the case of pork, small independent stores will be permitted to charge one to three cents a pound more than chains of big independents (defined as stores that did more than $250,000 business last year).

Since prices could be compared only on a store-by-store basis, officials said they could not estimate the amount of the reduction in prices on the average. But they said that, in the northeast, hamburger has been selling lately up to 50 cents per pound and will be cut to 32 or 33 cents per pound under the new order.

In some cases, where stores had abnormally low individual ceilings, they would be forced to raise their prices slightly.

Many of the prices, which will be forced down, OPA added, were really illegal, but had gone unpunished because the confusion over individual store ceilings made it impossible to enforce the old rules.

Coupled with meat rationing, today beginning its second week, the new prices were said by OPA to provide "readily identifiable ceilings to shoppers in each city town or hamlet."

And strike a telling blow at black markets in meat, a new and a half year-old problem for black market operators to continue to pose as legitimate retailers.

Other purposes of the action, OPA continued, were to provide relief for stores squeezed between low individual ceilings and recent advances in wholesale maximums, and also to remove price differentials which formerly made it unprofitable for some stores with low ceilings to handle meat while neighboring competitors with high ceilings got fairly substantial supplies.

Basis of Difference. The price differential between small stores and the chain-store group will, however, be some of the difference in retail meat prices, Charles Elkinton, OPA meat price executive, said this differential was based on the historical differences between these types of stores and was necessary to prevent giving large stores an unfair advantage.

Price standardization, he said, was necessary to prevent giving large stores an unfair advantage. Price standardization, he said, was necessary to prevent giving large stores an unfair advantage.

Upper Sandusky School Head Cites Ostracism of Deferred Farm Youths

A new wartime problem, disclosed today by Superintendent Blackford of the Upper Sandusky public schools—the ostracism of farm youths who have been deferred to produce food for the nation's war effort—are being ostracized by their companions and called "lackers."

In a letter to the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Sept. 10, Blackford declared the ostracism of such youths is a real problem and one that must be met by the community.

He is a competent farmer, he would be a very ordinary worker, delegated to doing a truck, perhaps of tractor mules.

Since Bill secured his exemption, his former classmates "shun" him, that is, they are not in his neighborhood any longer make it clear.

Blackford wrote, "I may be presented by an actual example, the famous only as to name. Bill Jones, who lives with his father on a large farm, was graduated from high school in 1942. Bill was a

Gardening Guide—12 Short Cuts To Success

Associated Press Features
Victory Garden general will do well to avoid amateur's mistakes and take their information straight from the tried and true War Office of agriculture.

These are tips from professional gardeners on college agricultural stations.

1—Dig more often, and dig deeper than for shallow. They should be only deep enough to make sure they are in soil in a moist, deep planting delays germination.

2—Water all growth from the top plants to a height of 12 inches up.

3—On Dec. 1 all these will be taken to the garden center, where they will be given the regular army basic training and indoctrination courses, and a special training as deemed advisable by army officers.

4—On March 15 they will be reassigned back to the garden center, where they will be given the regular army basic training and indoctrination courses, and a special training as deemed advisable by army officers.

5—In addition to doing farm work under army supervision they will meet once a week, in uniform, for instruction and drill.

6—They will be required to do special work in black-out, guarding military objectives, and such other work as army officers deem advisable.

7—At the close of the war they shall be given an honorable discharge and be entitled to all the rights and benefits accruing from military service for soldiers of their training and experience including membership in the "Veterans' Organizations" for which their term of actual military service makes them eligible.

"Be assured," concluded Blackford, "that I write only because I am unwilling to see human dignity destroyed in a global war which has for a prime objective the preserving of human dignity."

REPORT RAIN NEEDED IN WHEAT LANDS

Oklahoma and Kansas
Fear Drouth.

By The Associated Press
OKLAHOMA, April 5.—Although the crop came through the winter season in good condition, weather reports circulating in the state particularly in the south, emphasize the need of rain if the crop is to approach last year's level.
The nation's largest wheat area, the western states, particularly in the south, are in need of rain if the crop is to approach last year's level. There have been reports of dust storms in this region as a result of the dry top soil.

Even the subsoil moisture is becoming dry in a few areas of western Kansas, crop reports indicated, but the whole situation could be changed for the better quickly if moisture should arrive. Wheat is "greening-up" in Kansas as far north as the Nebraska state line.
Crop experts do not expect a repetition of the abnormally high yields of last year. E. H. Miller of the Miller statistical service has estimated a winter wheat crop some 90,000,000 bushels smaller than that harvested in 1942.
The crop this year, according to Miller's forecast, should total 612,751,000 bushels compared with 703,253,000 bushels produced last year. Earlier in the season the government anticipated a production of 625,000,000 bushels. Miller stated the outlook for Ohio was 31,000,000 bushels compared with 36,000,000 last year. Wheat closed Friday 14-1/4 high.

er than last Saturday. May $1.45-1/2, July $1.45-1/2, corn was unchanged at 50c, May $1.01, oats were 1/2 lower to 1 cent higher and rye was 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher.

Moral Soldier's Camp Votes for Lana Turner

Lt. Fred L. Rice Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rice of Morral, was among a group of aerial observers at Brooks Field, Tex., who recently participated in a poll of their opinions on movie stars, radio program, dance, orchestras, columnists, comic strips, and girl friends, according to a news report from the public relations office at Brooks Field.

The results of the voting were as follows: favorite movie stars, Lana Turner and Lt. Clark Gable; top bandman, trumpeter Harry James; most popular comic strip, Milt Caniff's "Terry and the Pirates"; favorite radio star, Bob Hope; most widely read columnist, Westbrook Pegler. Asked if they preferred blondes, brunettes or redheads, a majority of them checked all three.
Before entering the service, Lt. Rice was associated with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. in Akron. With three years of National Guard service to his credit, he was appointed to the officers candidate school at Miami Beach, Fla., in Oct. 1942 and was graduated from there in January.

HOGS, CATTLE AT NEW HIGHS

Swine at Best Price in 22
Years; Cattle Equal 1937
Mark.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, April 5.—Both hogs and cattle established new high prices this week, with hogs advancing to the best prices in 22 years and the cattle top was the best since 1937.

Despite rationing and imposition of ceiling prices on retail pork cuts, which the administration had expected would brake sharply rising live costs, swine prices were strong, advancing to $15 a hundredweight on Thursday and to $16.10 on Friday, a new peak for the season and the highest level reached since October, 1920.

At midweek, choice fed steers and yearling prices also climbed to $17.75, a new high since 1937. The market for good and choice fed beef was strong throughout the week with most prices 50 cents higher than a week earlier. The bulk of the week's run sold between $14.75 and $17.25 with but few heads going to killers under $14.75. Choice heifers topped at $16.85, with the market generally higher.

Stock cattle also remained in good demand with prices strong to 25 cents up. Choice stocker yearlings sold up to $16.00.

Canners, cutlers and common beef cows, however, did not maintain the advances and closed generally weak to 25 cents lower. Weighty sausage bulls finished with a practical top of $14.65 but light and medium weights heads declined 25 cents.

Vealers broke sharply, as much as $1.50 to $3.00, with the bulk of the good to choice offerings finishing the week at $14.00 to $15.50. The top on choice weighty offerings was $16.00, compared with $17.50 a week earlier.

Price advances were attributed to the heavy requirements of the Army and governmental agencies and to the sharply increased demands from the consuming public. Meanwhile, salable receipts of livestock continued only moderate.
Lambs lost 25 to 35 cents during the week when supplies increased, but recovered most of the losses on the closing sessions. The bulk of the good and choice weighty lambs sold between $15.75 and $16.25, compared with the week's low time of $15.75 to $16.00. The top for the week was $18.50.

To the users of Nestlé's Lion Brand Evaporated Milk

For many years you have been able to enjoy not only the fine quality of this superior product, but in addition you have been able to exchange LION BRAND Coupons for a wide assortment of attractive premiums.

As you know, the War Program has made many changes necessary. Such items as aluminum, silverware, electrical goods and many others made from critical materials are no longer available, and in our case we are faced with the fact that many of the manufacturers of our premiums are now making war materials.

We regret that this situation makes it impossible to continue offering our customers a choice of desirable, worthwhile premiums, and rather than limit them to a small selection of relatively undesirable premiums, we have decided, for the duration at least, to suspend the LION BRAND Premium Plan.

Redemption service at our premium agencies will be

The 2nd War Loan Starts April 12

13 billion dollars must be raised!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

We've Got to Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got to Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got to Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building . . . We've got to match, as best we can, the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battle-fronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after this war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peacetime jobs making peace-living for every one of us.

For your Country's sake—for your own sake—invest all you can!

The altar was lighted with white candles held in two ivory-handled candlesticks and flowers were baskets of white snapdragons.

MISS JEANNE ALSPAUGH

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in the white dotted Swiss wedding gown and not veil worn by her sister, Maxine, when she became Mrs. Ellis Veatch several years ago. The bouffant skirt extended into a small train. The fingertip length veil was held in place with orange ribbons and she carried a white prayer book covered with blue ribbons. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Marion Tuttle of Marion, served as best man for the bridegroom. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Alspaugh wore a pink tulle and the bridegroom's mother wore an applique trimmed black two-piece dress. Both wore gardenia corsages.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Ellis Veatch of Washington, D. C., and Miss Barbara Alspaugh of Marion, lighted the candles. John Workman, assistant organist at the chapel, played the wedding music. His selections including "Prelude," "Oh, Promise Me," "Because," "Oh, Perfect Love," and the traditional wedding marches. During the ceremony Mr. Workman played "Liebestraum."

Following the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Alspaugh were hosts at a wedding dinner at the Masonic Tavern. The table was centered with an arrangement of white sweet peas and lighted with white candles and held a bride's cake. Later, when the couple left on a short trip the bride was wearing a two-piece jersey costume in a cheerful pink shade, with orange tan accessories and pinned to her beige casual coat were the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Harding High school and a business school in Columbus. Until recently she was employed in the technical department of the U. S. Rubber Co. ## AMENDMENT UP FOR VOTE IN ASSEMBLY

Proposal Would Affect Calling of Special Sessions.

COLUMBUS, O., April 5.—A proposed constitutional amendment increasing the power of the Ohio legislature is scheduled for a vote in the house of representatives tonight. It would enable the legislature to hold a special session if three-fifths of the members so petitioned. At present only the governor may call a special session. The proposal in its present form makes more difficult the convening of a special session than did the original resolution by Rep. Robert A. Wilkinson, (R-Van Wert).

Wilkinson originally provided a majority of the members could petition for an extra session. The change to a three-fifths requirement was made by the house judiciary committee. If the Wilkinson resolution is adopted it will go before the state's voters in the November election. If the voters approve it, the constitutional amendment will become effective next year. The senate is expected to complete enactment tonight of a house-approved bill authorizing the state liquor director to ration whisky.

Rubber tank treads give extra speed and manoeuvrability.

We work to win the war...to win it as quickly as possible that our sons and brothers and husbands who might otherwise not return shall come home again alive.

Into every life raft, tank tread, shoe, tire or fuel cell is poured the quality workmanship and skill acquired in years of peace.

We know that this quality of workmanship and the speed which comes with skill is the only way we can do our part for the men who daily offer their lives on the field of battle.

We work hard, for we know the hell in which our men at the front live, and fight and die.

We are determined that our work shall provide the finest equipment so that our armed forces may not spend one hour longer than necessary on those world-wide battle fields.

Everything we have is going into this work. All our skill. All our experience. Yes, all of our hearts.
